

May 8, 2023

Jessica Ross
Department of Human Services
University of Alaska Anchorage

Dear Professor Ross,

On behalf of the Selkregg Award Review Committee, I congratulate you. Your proposed project has been selected to receive funding for the 2024 Selkregg Community Engagement and Service Learning Award.

Your project, "Nughejagh: Engaging Alaska Native Elders in Designing a Participatory Culturally Responsive Trauma-Informed Intervention in the Eklutna Community Health Center" reflects the Selkregg family values supporting community partnerships and respecting multiple perspectives and sources of knowledge in community. Your proposal exemplifies and extends the spirit of their work. The Review Committee agreed that your project exemplifies the intention of the award to improve the quality of life for Alaska residents while creatively engaging students in learning and research that equally benefits the students and the community.

Your total award amount is $5,000. Your department will be provided your project's fund number for expenditures. Please ensure that all promotions and publications derived from this award include CCEL as the source of funding.

Congratulations on your accomplishment, and we look forward to working with you on this project. Please contact our office with any questions or if we may assist you in any way.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Marsha Olson".

Marsha Olson,
Associate Director, Center for Community Engagement & Learning

Cc: David Moxley, Director, Assistant Dean of Behavioral Health
Debbie Craig, Dean of College of Health